Ingesting rock salt or chemical de-icing products can have a toxic effect. There are pet-safe ice melting products available. Use one of them rather than rock salt for de-icing sidewalks and driveways. A safe alternative is using sand or cat litter. They won't melt ice, but they'll provide added traction. It is recommended you have your animals wear proper fitted boots or apply Vaseline or Bag Balm to footpads to soothe irritated paws before and after going outside in winter.

We are in desperate need of old Electric Blanket and Wet Food for Kittens/Cats please contact us to our pick up service. Please email us at info@beamsville4pawrescue.com

Feel Good Story!

You can tell just by looking at him that Scrappy has had a tough life. He has been fending for himself outside for 3 years since his family carelessly moved away and abandoned him. Many people in his neighborhood were afraid of him because he used to yowl and disturb their own cats.

But he wasn't doing it because he was wild or feral or just wanted to be annoying. Scrappy had so many injuries including old broken legs that have mended, infected cysts on his body, a damaged eye and many other health issues that he was crying for help! Scrappy found a "Forever Home" in January 2013. Thanks to Helen for giving him a chance on Life.
